

Parents,

The use of technology and information obtained through electronic devices, is a huge part of our children's lives. There are situations that occur daily that involve inappropriate use of technology, communicating with strangers across the world and even the exchange of inappropriate sexual material. The information shared in this documentary will be eye opening. It will help you to better understand how to balance life with a young adolescent in your home that is surrounded by the use of screens and electronic devices. I hope you will join us!

Sincerely, Courtney Fritz, Principal
